Veterinarians to the Netherlands

Are you looking for an international career challenge?

Interested to work for NVWA, the Dutch Food and Consumer Product Safety Authority?

We are looking for you!

Your role

Your most important responsibilities as an Official Veterinarian will be to:

- protect animal and public health, animal wellbeing and
- watch over animal-origin food safety and the quality of exported products.

Your profile

- EU/EFTA country citizenship
- European acknowledged Veterinary Medicine Master degree
- Preferably with work experience BUT you can also apply if you have just graduated
- Strong written and oral English skills
- Willing to move to the Netherlands and learn Dutch up to level B2 during a crash course
- Good judgement skills, capable of distinguishing major from minor issues and make fast decisions

NVWA offers

- Salary between 3500 - 5500 euros net per month (variable according to proven experience)
- A 2-stage training programme, already in the Netherlands, before starting as an Official Veterinarian
- Once the training programme is completed, 1-year work contract with NVWA, converted into a permanent position if you meet job expectations
- Positions in different regions in The Netherlands (mainly in the North and the East)
